TOM CLANCY'S GHOSTRECON BREAKPOINT PLAY GU UBISOFT

THE GHOSTS LOOK

IN GHOST RECON BREAKPOINT, GHOSTS ARE SURVIVORS.
AFTER THEIR CRASH, THEY DON'T HAVE THE LUXURY OF MATCHING UNIFORMS OR NEW GEAR. WOUNDED, WITH DAMAGED AND DIRTY CLOTHES, THE GHOSTS FIX THEIR GEAR AND THEMSELVES WITH WHATEVER THEY CAN FIND.

MIX OF MILITARY, CIVILIAN CLOTHES & NO UNIFORMS

After the crash, Ghosts will have to equip themselves with the gear they find on the island.

WOUNDS, BLOOD & BANDAGES

The Ghosts are hunted and wounded. Bandages are signs you're still doing better than the other guy.

DIY REPAIRS

Ghosts fix their equipment with what they have on hand.

MUDDY, DIRTY & DAMAGED CLOTHES

Ghosts are facing a harsh environment, often traveling through \boldsymbol{mud} and $\boldsymbol{muck}.$

GHOST RECON BREAKPOINT

We are HUNTERS, blending so deep into the environment we become part of it.

We are SURVIVORS, equipping the right gear to survive for months in the harshest conditions.

We are TRAVELERS, going miles through mud and muck.

We are ADVENTURERS, doing crazy shit no one else dares.

We are WATCHERS, seeing everything, but never being seen, all without a trace.

We are SCHOLARS, studying our enemy's culture, so we can fuck them up from the inside.

We are JUDGES, deciding who will live, and who must die.

We are STRANGERS, far away from home.

We are GODS, striking from nowhere, and everywhere, at the same time.

WE ARE GHOSTS AND WE DO NOT EXIST

NOMAD

HISTORY

Born in Boston, Massachusetts. Nomad was an Army brat who spent his childhood moving from base to base. He joined the US Army at the age of 18 and underwent selection for Delta Force at 24. Spent three tours with counter-terrorist Task Force 88 before being recruited into the Group for Specialized Tactics (The Ghosts). Rose through the ranks to become Team Leader during a difficult mission in Eastern Europe.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

Always remains completely calm, even under the greatest pressure. Nomad is the epitome of the strong and silent soldier type: able to repress his emotions and to remain completely objective under any circumstances. Past teammates would joke about checking his pulse during freefall jumps to make sure he was still alive. He gets antsy when on Rest & Recuperation and has trouble adjusting to the "mundane day-to-day life" when not deployed. This affects his personal relationships outside of the military. Has been married and divorced twice, with a teenage son by his first wife. He struggles to maintain a relationship with his son, who blames him for having been an absentee father. Nomad is looking to retire to "make up for lost time" with his son, who is about to become a father himself.

PERSONAL HISTORY AS A GHOST

Nomad became Ghost Lead in 2017, after a mission went wrong in Ukraine and his team leader was injured. His first full mission in this leadership role was a hostage rescue operation in the Amazon Jungle at the border between Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia. This was also the first mission for the newly formed team of Ghosts composed of Nomad, Weaver (who's been on several mission with Nomad), Holt and Midas (for whom it both was their first assignment as Ghosts). Two years after, the team was sent into Bolivia as an undercover force to stop the Santa Blanca Cartel from turning Bolivia into a narco-state. After completion of that bittersweet "successful" mission in 2019 and several other operations he's looking to retire and has accepted one last recon mission on a remote Pacific island.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHERS

On his first mission as Ghost Lead, Nomad had a hard time finding the right balance between being a mission-driven leader, and being a member of the team. Now on his last mission, he has no problem putting the personal aspects to one side in order to execute the mission his team is tasked with. Nomad is something of an introvert and not really the talkative type.

COSPLAY GUIDE

FURY

HISTORY

Born in San Diego, California. Fury has always been labeled a tomboy. She started boxing and studying jujitsu in her youth and competed at a national level at 16. She studied psychology before joining the Navy at age 22, where she was among the first women to become a US Navy SEAL. Later, she was accepted into DEVGRU with which she served multiple tours. After several complicated and dangerous missions, she was selected to join the Group for Specialized Tactics (The Ghosts) at age 30.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

Fury is known to have some issues with authority and structure. As a woman in the military she often had to prove her worth and deal with the very "male-centric" culture of the units she belonged to. She has responded to these pressures by asserting herself over her male counterparts and making sure there is no room to question her competency in hand-to-hand combat. She has often been involved in fights with her fellow unit members, in which she always end up "winning the argument".

PERSONAL HISTORY AS A GHOST

She has been assigned primarily to missions where her strong capacity for adaptation in any environment and exemplary hand-to-hand combat skills have been deemed essential.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHERS

With her strong temperament, she tends to be quite direct with other Ghosts. She curbs this tendency only when talking to Nomad, to whom she feels a great amount of respect. Fury feels like she is always in competition with other team members and wants to prove to them that she is as good as they are, if not better.

VASILY

Born in Brooklyn, NYC to a second-generation Chinese-immigrant family, David grew up in a multi-lingual household, where he was raised primarily by his grandmother. He spent his tumultuous teenage years in the New York public school system. Underneath his quiet demeanor was a quick wit and sharp tongue that got him in trouble with the wrong people too often. At 18 he joined the US Army, mostly to prove to others that he was a 'real American'. His immediate aptitude for precision and long-range combat earned the attention of one of the top marksmen in the 75th Ranger Regiment. He then joined the Rangers at 20 where he further developed his exceptional skillset for marksmanship and ended up top of his sniper school class. He underwent selection to become a member of the Group for Specialized Tactics (The Ghosts) at age 26.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

Vasily tends to be a bit shy and is not very talkative. He is the most emotional member of the team and often finds himself in disagreements with team members. Due to his younger age, he has seen less action than other team members and feels he has a lot to prove.

PERSONAL HISTORY AS A GHOST

He was among the youngest to become an operator with the Ghosts.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHERS

Vasily tends to be rather quiet. Due to his relative youth and lack of combat experience compared to the other Ghosts, he strives to prove himself to his team. He has few close friends in the military, but when his trust is earned, it lasts a lifetime.

FIXIT

Born in Chicago, Illinois. Fixit spent most of his childhood helping his father in the family auto repair shop. His obsession with technology and exceptional aptitude with mechanical devices won him a scholarship from MIT where he studied both Electrical and Mechanical Engineering. Fixit joined the US Army upon completion of his studies, because he wanted to have access to the latest technology available. Selected early in his military career for Delta Force, he served multiple tours as a communications and sensitive data recovery specialist. Recruited into the Ghosts at the age 29, he quickly became known as "the drone guy".

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

Hyperactive, Fixit is always doing something, whether deployed or off-duty. He often prefers spending time fixing equipment and working on drone customization to spending time with others. Ghosts often joke about him marrying an android one day. Fixit is also a perfectionist and has a hard time seeing other people do something incorrectly – he's unable to stop himself from correcting them, which can be annoying to some.

PERSONAL HISTORY AS A GHOST

Most of his previous operations were recon and Intel gathering missions. He is known among other Ghosts as "the drone guy" since he spends a lot of time working on prototypes or fixing and improving the drones used by the unit.

RELATIONSHIP WITH OTHERS

Fixit is both a professional top tier operator in combat and a joker at heart. He often uses his humor to keep a tense situation under control. Being in charge of the technological and medical needs of the team, he is often taking care team members or their devices and is frequently teased for acting like their "mom" in the field. He sometimes gets on other's nerves when he tries to tell them how to do things "the right way", but always manages to address rising tensions with a well-thought-out joke.
